

EXTRA. A FAST TRACK.

And an Interesting Day Among the Racers at Cutchburg.

NEGLECTED HIMLEX A WINNER.

Running Bird, King Hazem and Moonstone Also Finish Leaders.

THE OPENING event was a five-furlong dash, which brought out a very fair class of sprinters. Last Star was a strong favorite, with Napa and Character next in demand.

WESLEYAN VS. THE GIANTS. And To-Morrow the Yale Team Will Try New York's Mettle.

PORT GLOUCESTER, N.Y., April 8.—The Western University baseball team met the Wesleyan team this afternoon. To-morrow the Giants will cross bats with the Yale University Club, which will be made up precisely as it was yesterday, when it held Boston down to a score of 3 to 2.

THE BATTING order for to-day follows: NEW YORK. Taylor, c.f.; Ewing, 1b.; Bissett, 2b.; Fuller, 3b.; Sharratt, p.

WESTLEYAN. Taylor, c.f.; Ewing, 1b.; Bissett, 2b.; Fuller, 3b.; Sharratt, p.

SCORE BY INNINGS. New York... 4 2 3 0 0 8 8

HORSE-OWNER CORRIGAN'S FIGHT His Suit to Compel the Jockey Club to Receive His Entrance.

THE DEMURR of the Queens Island Jockey Club to the complaint of Edward Corrigan, in his suit to compel the Club to receive the entries of his horses at this year's meetings, was argued to-day before Judge Gilchrist in the Superior Court.

CAUGHT "SHOVING THE QUEER." Ann Martino, an Italian, who was caught today to pass a counterfeit silver quarter on a fruit pedler on Bayard street, was held for examination by United States Commissioner Nichols to-day.

A KNOCKOUT in Montana. HELLEN MOORE, APRIL 8.—The Hayes, colored, of Minneapolis, knocked out Jack Stoney, of Montana, last night, in the second round of a fight for a purse of $100.

FEARFUL SNOWSTORM BAGING. FORT ROBINSON, Neb., April 8.—A fearful snowstorm is raging here and much damage has already been caused by the blizzard.

HANGED HIMSELF at Twenty-five. EMANUEL LIPKAT, twenty-five years old, committed suicide at 5 o'clock this afternoon by hanging himself at his home, 224 Third avenue.

A BULLET FOR MME. CHARLES.

The Former Owner of the "House of All Nations" Shot At.

Talmage Clark, Carrie Baker's Husband, Locked Up for the Shooting.

THE LEGAL controversy over the furnishings of the once notorious "House of All Nations," at 117 West Thirty-second street, came near resulting in a murder during the early hours of this morning.

According to Mrs. Emma Charles, the former owner and proprietor of the house, and Police Commissioner, the West Thirtieth street station, Mrs. Charles narrowly escaped being killed by a pistol bullet, fired at her by Talmage W. Clark, the alleged husband of Carrie Baker, who was the more recent proprietress of the resort.

The policeman was in West Thirty-second street station at 117 West Thirty-second street, when he saw a man looking up at an upper window of Mrs. Charles's residence, at No. 121. Mrs. Charles herself was at the window. The next instant a pistol shot rang out and Mrs. Charles screamed.

The man who had been looking up at the window ran swiftly down the street and the policeman followed him. He was a young man, he was a very able physician and has an office at 55 West Thirty-sixth street.

When questioned by an Evening World reporter about the marriage, the clerk of the Park Avenue Hotel said this morning: "Nobody here knows much about it. All I know is that it was a very beautiful woman and immensely rich."

Mrs. Clark, or Mrs. Clark, as she is called, has lived here for nearly three years, during which time I have seen her only once or twice.

She has been suffering, I think, from nervous prostration. Dr. Syms has been her attending physician for about a year and a half. During the last two weeks Dr. Syms also had rooms here.

This morning the doctor settled his bill, and said that some relative of Mrs. Watson would be around to settle the rather bulky bill of that lady and her daughter.

I really do not know where the doctor has taken his bill, but believe that they were to go to his summer residence somewhere on the Hudson.

He said this morning that he is sure his wife will soon recover her health.

The doctor's brother is in charge of his household. He is a very able physician and has an office at 55 West Thirty-sixth street.

When questioned by an Evening World reporter about the marriage, the clerk of the Park Avenue Hotel said this morning: "Nobody here knows much about it. All I know is that it was a very beautiful woman and immensely rich."

Mrs. Clark, or Mrs. Clark, as she is called, has lived here for nearly three years, during which time I have seen her only once or twice.

She has been suffering, I think, from nervous prostration. Dr. Syms has been her attending physician for about a year and a half. During the last two weeks Dr. Syms also had rooms here.

This morning the doctor settled his bill, and said that some relative of Mrs. Watson would be around to settle the rather bulky bill of that lady and her daughter.

I really do not know where the doctor has taken his bill, but believe that they were to go to his summer residence somewhere on the Hudson.

He said this morning that he is sure his wife will soon recover her health.

The doctor's brother is in charge of his household. He is a very able physician and has an office at 55 West Thirty-sixth street.

When questioned by an Evening World reporter about the marriage, the clerk of the Park Avenue Hotel said this morning: "Nobody here knows much about it. All I know is that it was a very beautiful woman and immensely rich."

Mrs. Clark, or Mrs. Clark, as she is called, has lived here for nearly three years, during which time I have seen her only once or twice.

She has been suffering, I think, from nervous prostration. Dr. Syms has been her attending physician for about a year and a half. During the last two weeks Dr. Syms also had rooms here.

This morning the doctor settled his bill, and said that some relative of Mrs. Watson would be around to settle the rather bulky bill of that lady and her daughter.

WEDDED HIS LOVELY PATIENT.

Dr. Parker Syms's Rich Bride Was Too Weak to Stand.

She Reclined on a Couch While the Ceremony Was Performed.

THE NOTICE, which appeared in a morning paper, was the first intimation the attending physician, Dr. Parker Syms, had of his marriage. The matter was kept a profound secret, the marriage ceremony itself having been conducted with the greatest privacy in the bride's room at the Park Avenue Hotel, in the presence of only the immediate members of the family.

Anna Watson Hall, a beautiful widow, she is twenty-five years old and an invalid. She has been confined to her room ever since she went to the hotel with her mother, Mrs. Watson, three years ago. The bride was too weak to walk and had to be carried to the carriage in which the party drove away from the hotel this morning.

Dr. Parker Syms, the bridegroom, is still a young man. He is a very able physician and has an office at 55 West Thirty-sixth street.

When questioned by an Evening World reporter about the marriage, the clerk of the Park Avenue Hotel said this morning: "Nobody here knows much about it. All I know is that it was a very beautiful woman and immensely rich."

Mrs. Clark, or Mrs. Clark, as she is called, has lived here for nearly three years, during which time I have seen her only once or twice.

She has been suffering, I think, from nervous prostration. Dr. Syms has been her attending physician for about a year and a half. During the last two weeks Dr. Syms also had rooms here.

This morning the doctor settled his bill, and said that some relative of Mrs. Watson would be around to settle the rather bulky bill of that lady and her daughter.

I really do not know where the doctor has taken his bill, but believe that they were to go to his summer residence somewhere on the Hudson.

He said this morning that he is sure his wife will soon recover her health.

The doctor's brother is in charge of his household. He is a very able physician and has an office at 55 West Thirty-sixth street.

When questioned by an Evening World reporter about the marriage, the clerk of the Park Avenue Hotel said this morning: "Nobody here knows much about it. All I know is that it was a very beautiful woman and immensely rich."

Mrs. Clark, or Mrs. Clark, as she is called, has lived here for nearly three years, during which time I have seen her only once or twice.

She has been suffering, I think, from nervous prostration. Dr. Syms has been her attending physician for about a year and a half. During the last two weeks Dr. Syms also had rooms here.

This morning the doctor settled his bill, and said that some relative of Mrs. Watson would be around to settle the rather bulky bill of that lady and her daughter.

I really do not know where the doctor has taken his bill, but believe that they were to go to his summer residence somewhere on the Hudson.

He said this morning that he is sure his wife will soon recover her health.

The doctor's brother is in charge of his household. He is a very able physician and has an office at 55 West Thirty-sixth street.

When questioned by an Evening World reporter about the marriage, the clerk of the Park Avenue Hotel said this morning: "Nobody here knows much about it. All I know is that it was a very beautiful woman and immensely rich."

Mrs. Clark, or Mrs. Clark, as she is called, has lived here for nearly three years, during which time I have seen her only once or twice.

She has been suffering, I think, from nervous prostration. Dr. Syms has been her attending physician for about a year and a half. During the last two weeks Dr. Syms also had rooms here.

This morning the doctor settled his bill, and said that some relative of Mrs. Watson would be around to settle the rather bulky bill of that lady and her daughter.

I really do not know where the doctor has taken his bill, but believe that they were to go to his summer residence somewhere on the Hudson.

LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

Police Think Maggie Walling Died from a Beating.

Her Paramour, James Maguire, Charged with the Crime.

HER BODY CLAIMED by the husband she had deserted.

THE WEST THIRTIETH street police are to-day investigating the case of a woman who died in the New York Hospital Wednesday morning, whose name was given as Margaret Walling.

She was removed in an ambulance from 145 West Seventeenth street six hours before her death. John Decker, a waiter, of 144 West Seventeenth street, called at the West Thirtieth street police station at 2 o'clock this morning and said that the woman had recently been brutally beaten by her husband, who had mysteriously disappeared after her death. Detectives were at once put to work on the case.

Inquiry at the hospital disclosed the fact that the woman had died of peritonitis, but what had induced it the surgeon could not say, as her husband, James Maguire, had refused to allow an autopsy to be made.

Subsequently another man, William Walling, of 52 Leroy street, appeared, claiming that he was the woman's husband, and upon Maguire acknowledging that the statement was true, Walling was allowed to have the body taken to his home at 52 Leroy street.

From the janitor at 145 West Seventeenth street it was learned that the Maguires rented apartments on the top floor six weeks ago, giving the name of Williams. Within a day or two "Mrs. Williams" gave birth to a child.

One night about three weeks ago she was seen leaving her home. The neighbors say they heard "Mrs. Williams" husband beating her, and Decker, who informed the police of the case, says that the woman was apparently beaten until the man got tired.

Mrs. Burke, who lived across the hall from the pair, told the police that "Mrs. Williams" eyes were blackened and her person badly bruised. A doctor was called in and prescribed for her, but the woman received little or no attention.

Shortly after midnight of Tuesday an ambulance came and "Mrs. Williams," as she was still known, was taken to the hospital, where she died Wednesday morning.

Three men and boarded with the Williams and they all disappeared Wednesday. In the afternoon the furniture was removed. Mrs. Williams's baby and three-year-old girl were taken away by a named Syder, janitor of a flat-house on West Sixteenth street, where the "Williams" had formerly lived.

When the Board of Health learned these facts a burial permit was refused. The coroner was notified and an inquest will be held.

AN EVENING WORLD reporter saw William Walling at 53 Leroy street to-day. He said: "The woman was my wife. Three years ago we were living at 300 Washington street. I work at the White Star dock, and turned over to her $25 and $30 every week to put in the savings bank. She wanted to take a vacation and I finally consented. One of the lodgers was a seventeen-year-old boy named James Maguire, from Troy."

"My wife became very fond of Maguire, but I didn't suspect anything. Her intimacy was kept up, and two years ago my wife drew about $3,000 of my money from the savings bank and ran away to Chicago with Maguire. She took two of our children with her and left two behind."

"She afterward sent back another child. She has been living in different places with Maguire ever since, often sending to me for money."

"Wednesday night a man came here and said Maggie had died in the New York Hospital and that he had her body. I went to the hospital and found her. His name was Syder and he was janitor of a house on West Sixteenth street, near eighth avenue."

"I took my little girl and let him keep the baby. When I went to the hospital yesterday to claim the body they wouldn't let me have it, because Maguire said he was her husband."

"I went to Maguire's mother's house at 74 Charles street and found him there. He went with me to the hospital and acknowledged that he had had, and I got the body to give it decent burial, knowing that he wouldn't."

"Walling lives with his wife's sisters, Mrs. Anne English, who has cared for him since he was a boy. He is a very able physician and has an office at 55 West Thirty-sixth street."

When questioned by an Evening World reporter about the marriage, the clerk of the Park Avenue Hotel said this morning: "Nobody here knows much about it. All I know is that it was a very beautiful woman and immensely rich."

Mrs. Clark, or Mrs. Clark, as she is called, has lived here for nearly three years, during which time I have seen her only once or twice.

She has been suffering, I think, from nervous prostration. Dr. Syms has been her attending physician for about a year and a half. During the last two weeks Dr. Syms also had rooms here.

This morning the doctor settled his bill, and said that some relative of Mrs. Watson would be around to settle the rather bulky bill of that lady and her daughter.

"EVENING WORLD" ILLUSTRATED PROVERBS--XXXVII.

Example teaches more than precept.

HISSED AND CHEERED HILL. THE COHOS BILL IS VETOED.

Bay State Democrats in Convention Indorse Mr. Cleveland.

ALBANY, April 8.—The Governor has vetoed the Cohoes Electric Company bill, which the Democrats in the Legislature have had so much trouble.

The Governor says that, besides working injustice by its ill-timed provisions, the bill violates the principle of home rule, is opposed by the Mayor of Cohoes and by the Common Council and by a large portion of the citizens.

The veto was received in the Assembly at 11 o'clock. It was held on the speaker's desk until 11:30, the hour of adjournment being at noon.

It was read very slowly by the Clerk, and was not concluded until 1:30.

The speaker, then, Mr. Gorman, moved that this bill and the accompanying message lie on the table.

Gorman, who stood in the middle aisle, did not make such a motion and replied very slowly and deliberately.

As Mr. Avery proceeded to draw the ideal candidate, the Convention was quick to recognize the portrait of Cleveland, and there were repeated cries of "Cleveland" and loud and continued applause.

The resolutions reaffirmed the platform of 1890 and 1891, "upon which we have twice elected the Governor of this Commonwealth," denounced high tariff taxation and approved the various tariff reform bills proposed and prepared in Congress; renewed the honest money declaration of last year's Convention, and denounced the Sherman Silver act of 1890, placed again the approval of Massachusetts Democrats on the last National Democratic Administration, and concluded thus:

"While adhering to our time-honored custom, we do not specially pledge our delegation, we yet declare our conviction that the best interests of the party and of the country demand the nomination and election of Grover Cleveland as President, and we are confident that under his leadership the principles of Democracy will again win a glorious victory."

John F. Russell said he was personally responsible for the style of the resolutions and he objected to the interpolation of a stump speech into them in favor of any man.

Mr. Keenan finally withdrew his resolution and the committee resolutions were unanimously adopted.

TO A NEW YORK SYNDICATE. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) CHICAGO, April 8.—An Indiana special says positive information is received that on May 10 the Indianapolis street-car line will pass from the hands of the present owners, the Chicago capitalists, to the control of a New York syndicate headed by R. L. Balkan.

An option given by the Chicago owners to J. C. Shaffer, ex-President of the company, has been closed. The consideration is $25,000,000.

SUICIDE at Three-Score and Ten. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) ENGLEWOOD, N.J., April 8.—Adam Roth, seventy-one years old, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart at his home in Englewood at 4 o'clock this morning. He had been dependent over ill health and a supposed feeling that he was a burden to his children.

GREAT BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY. To lease for term of years, four-story building at corner of Park Row and Ann Street.

Post Office. ANN ST. PARK ROW. Opposite A. S. House. Address F. D. Moore, room 8, Pulitzer Building.

EXTRA. THE TURE.

Humorous Side to the Board of Control's Latest Edict.

DELACEY-DWYER WAR OVER.

Judges' Box on Wheels to Appear at Morris Park.

THE VARIETY in the ranks of the Board of Control made by the death of D. D. Wilcox was filled yesterday by the election of Mr. A. P. Walcott, the gentleman who is at the head of a syndicate which has purchased nearly all of the stock of the Monmouth Park Association.

Mr. Walcott took part in the proceedings of the Board and one of his first official acts was the signing of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That no transfers of any entry can be made to or by any person disqualified under the regulations of Dec. 23, 1891. No horse trained on the grounds of any association or being in the care of any trainer disqualified under the regulations of Dec. 23, 1891, shall be allowed to race on the grounds of any association represented in the Board of Control, but subject to the provisions of the regulations of Dec. 23, 1891, shall not interfere with the full right of transfer of existing entries.

The undersigned, on behalf of himself and the association, hereby declares that he will carry out and sustain all rulings of the Board of Control.

For Monmouth Park. J. H. Lacy, Jr., Sec'y. F. J. Dwyer, Jr., Pres.

THE ADOPTION of this resolution means "no quarter to gutenberg or Gloucester." The regulation is very plain, but there is a serious side to it. When it is considered that horses that stable and are trained at Cutchburg or Gloucester are barred from racing on the big track, no matter whether they race there or not, the Board also adopted a resolution that the Lacey and Dwyer syndicates, in regard to reciprocal relations and the collections of the several jockeys and trainers were licensed. Mr. John A. Morris was not present.

A writer in this week's Sportsman declares that at Morris Park, where the Lacey and Dwyer syndicates are being trained, the horses are being trained in a very plain, but there is a serious side to it. When it is considered that horses that stable and are trained at Cutchburg or Gloucester are barred from racing on the big track, no matter whether they race there or not, the Board also adopted a resolution that the Lacey and Dwyer syndicates, in regard to reciprocal relations and the collections of the several jockeys and trainers were licensed. Mr. John A. Morris was not present.

THE SPEAKER put the question via voice and, notwithstanding the repeated calls for the veto, the bill was carried and adjourned the House.

THE BONE-BOILING NUISANCE. Bill to Remove It from City Neighborhoods Passes the Senate.

ALBANY, April 8.—The Senate today passed a bill prohibiting fat-rendering and bone-boiling within three miles of limits of any incorporated city.

Before the bill was passed one after another of the Senators, except McClelland, asked to have their counties exempted from the bill's provisions, and finally Floyd Jones asked that Queens county, where the nuisance particularly abounds, be exempted.

McClelland protested, but Queens was exempted by a vote of 13 to 3.

McClelland again protested, and said that in the portion of Brooklyn opposite these bone-boiling establishments the stench was so great it could be tasted, and was almost tangible.

In one affected ward there were 80,000 persons. You could paint a house white there in the morning and by night the air would turn black. He moved to reconsider the vote by which Queens County was exempted.

His motion was carried and the amendment was then lost.

THE DAY IN ALBANY. Assembly passes Comptroller's bill amending the New York Rapid Transit act by giving suits against the Commission preference on the calendar.

In the Assembly Mally and Devo attack Great Britain, declaring that the bill gives a great deal of money to the British Government.

Senator's bill to establish municipal lodging-houses in New York City reported to the Senate.

Senate passes Plunkett's bill to enlarge the "Municipal Natural History, New York City and Albany," making new municipal buildings in New York City in City Hall Park or elsewhere.

Plunkett's bill to change the Albany, Elgin and Railroad Company to run trains on that portion of its line acquired from the Mohican Land Transportation Company at certain intervals reported from the committee.

Sam Doggett, who will again ride for Mr. Frank Horst this year, is trying a new trick, leading his horse in a circle, and riding a bicycle. Doggett says that as an aviator and a rider of a bicycle is a great invention, and that is a trifling thing with him.

Mr. Michael P. Dwyer has gone to Washington to induce the officials of the Washington meeting to change the conditions of their programme. It is said that several prominent owners, and among them Green R. Morris, are going to Washington because of the poor programme.

Jockey Isaac Murphy has been engaged to ride the best horse in the world, the Kentucky Stakes of the New Kentucky Association.

Out of forty-seven mares due to foal during the past few weeks at Fairview Stud, in Tennessee, all but one have slipped, which causes great loss upon horses Charles Reed & Sons.

Brewed from Malt and Barley. Rapid Reg. Co.'s Manhattan Beer. 200 N. 10th St.

NOW

Is the best time to find your house in The World's Real-Estate Index.